LET'S RECAP ON THE STORY SO FAR

Who is Plop?
Where does he live?
What doesn't he like?
Who has he met so far?
What has Plop seen?

When the very last firework had faded away, Mr Barn Owl went hunting. All night he brought food back to Plop, until daylight came and it was time for bed.

Halfway through the morning, Plop woke up.

Mrs Barn Owl opened one bleary eye. "Plop, dear," she said, "why don't you find out some more about the dark? Go and ask that old lady in the deck chair."

Plop landed by the old lady with a thump.
"Hello!" he said. "I've come to ask you about the dark. I want to go hunting with Daddy, but he always goes hunting in the dark and I'm afraid of it."
"How very odd," said the lady. "Now, I love the dark. DARK IS KIND. I can forget that I am old and I can sit and remember all the good times."
"I haven't much to remember, yet," said Plop. "I'm rather new, you see."

"Well?" said his mummy, as Plop flew up to the landing branch.
"The old lady says DARK IS KIND," said Plop, "but I still do not like it AT ALL."
